Associate Junior Analyst

As an Analyst, Bianca works in the Employee Benefits Division along with Sawyer Warzybuk and our Senior Vice President, Raquel Cagley.

With Bianca's attention to detail and a results-driven mindset, she consistently strives to exceed client expectations. Prioritizing accuracy and precision, she ensures that every task is executed to the highest standard. Her commitment to achieving tangible results drives client satisfaction, as she navigates challenges with adeptness, providing solutions that exceeds expectations.

Biography:

Bianca is a first-generation college student from the Philippines. With a passion for learning and determination to succeed, she has navigated and overcome various challenges to achieve academic and professional excellence. One of her favorite quotes is:

“Strive not to be of success, but rather to be of value.” – Albert Einstein

This quote serves as a reminder that true fulfillment and significance come from the impact we have on others and the value we bring to their lives, rather than from personal accomplishments alone.

Bianca has diverse experiences across multiple industries including finance, client advisory, and business analysis. Her unique background brings a varied viewpoint to her work, enriching her ability to collaborate, innovate, and drive positive change in any environment. Bianca's previous roles include several Fortune 500 companies, focusing on optimization projects that yielded significant cost savings for the company. Her ability to partner closely with senior leadership to assess risk factors and ensure strategic alignment will be instrumental in her role at Alamo Insurance Group, enabling her to provide the highest level of professionalism to current and future clients.

Bianca graduated from Rutgers Business School in 2020 with a Bachelor of Science in Finance.
